

Jeffersonian Democrat,

BROOKVILLE, PA.

ONE DOLLAR A YEAR.

Thursday, May 16, 1907.

Our Correspondents.

Corsica.

Arthur C. McKinley, a medical student in the Western University of Pennsylvania, is home for a short vacation. He will practice with some physician this summer and complete his course in the university next year.—A number of strangers were in Corsica last Thursday attending a meeting held in the interest of the Redbank telephone company.—Miss Florence Moore and R. Merle Corbett were home from the Normal school at Clarion over Sabbath.—Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Jones drove down to Clarion on Monday to spend the day.—William Himes, of Eldred township, lost a fine whip near Corsica a few days ago. The finder will confer a great favor by returning it to Mr. Himes.—Merle Dinger and family are moving into the McCormick house this week.—Mrs. Mayes, of Kingsville, spent a day recently with her sister and husband, Mr. and Mrs. John McCauley.—Mr. and Mrs. J. J. S. Moore are visiting in Pittsburg with Mrs. Moore's sisters, Mrs. Clark and Miss Lizzie Monks.—Jean M. Britt was home from Saturday till Tuesday morning. He is in the employ of the Pittsburg, Shawmut and Northern railroad company and is located at St. Marys, Elk county.—Keep in mind the Corsica